ROXIE--YOU'VE JUST GOT TO UNDERSTAND--I NEVER HAD ANYTHING TILL YOU CAME MY WAY--
I'LL DO ANYTHING NOT TO LOSE YOU OR SEE ANY MORE HARM COME TO YOU!

THE DAY OF THE GAME, JOHNNY FOLLOWS ORDERS...
COACH, I'M SORRY-- BUT I CAN'T PLAY--
FEEL SICK-- WEAK AS A KITTEN--
TAKE IT EASY FOR A WHILE--HAVE DOC LOOK AT YOU--
MAYBE HE CAN GIVE YOU SOMETHING.
JOHNNY, SOMETHING WRONG?
STAFFORD-- GO IN FOR DEE!
NO, ROXIE-- JUST AN UPSET STOMACH--I'LL BE ALL RIGHT SOON!
BUT WITHOUT JOHNNY DEE IN THE GAME-- SOMETHING SEEMS TO HAVE GONE OUT OF THE TEAM AND THE OPPOSING SCHOOL STEAMROLLERS OVER THE STANHOPE TEAM.
POOR JOHNNY, IF WE'RE GOING TO GET HIM BACK IN THE GAME--
--I'M GOING TO HAVE TO FIND THOSE THREE SNIPERS IN A HURRY!

Dear Editor:

"The Heroine in the Haunted House" was quite an entertaining story. It even approached being a first-rate chiller at times, and could've been a real scare-fest if not for one thing: It was far too easy to guess who was behind the "spirits." The first clue was the ghost of Jor-El himself. Despite the fact that he had a bit of color around the edges, he still looked remarkably like a Phantom Zone prisoner. This, combined with that bit about the TV set (which closely resembled Superman's Zone-O-Phone Viewer) gave the whole thing away—to me, at least. Still, you almost managed to throw me off the track with the appearance of a wraith-like Thought Beast, as no Thought Beasts were exiled to the Phantom Zone.

By the way, I would especially like to congratulate Kurt Schaffenberger on his artwork for this story. The drawings of the Haunted House were extremely well done. I am wondering—did Kurt pattern his drawings of the exterior after the famous Haunted Mansion in Disneyland? They seem quite similar.

Gregory Kent, Goleta, Calif.

What—you think we'd use a Haunted House full of ghostly ducks and mice?—Ed.)

Dear Editor:

In "The Rejected Supergirl," she uses her heat vision to destroy the metal lions. But one of them is lead, and as you know, Supergirl and Superman can't melt lead with their heat vision. A mistake? Possibly not, since it was a form of lead from Pluto, possibly it could be affected by her heat vision.

In the second story, why did Linda mention her diet? She doesn't need it. She is Supergirl, you know.

Also, if you do use one of Supergirl's baby stories, try to team her up with Superbaby. Think of the mischief they could make.

Stan Timmons, Lafayette, Ind.

(But how could they get together? Remember, Superman is quite a bit older than his cousin. When she was born, he was well past his babyhood.—Ed.)

* * * * *

Dear Editor:

Supergirl, being Superman's cousin and familiar with everything about him, is undoubtedly acquainted with the top members of his Rogues' Gallery. Yet she has probably actually met only half of them. I think many of your loyal fans would be eager to see our Stanhope Sensation utilize her super-attributes and super-wits against the "Other Half": the Parasite, the Prankster, the Puzzler and the Toyman.

Carlton Sloan, Chicago, Ill.

(But don't you think Supergirl should have her own set of arch-foes, instead of always having to borrow from her cousin?—Ed.)

* * * * *

Dear Editor:

In #395, you show plant life on Pluto. That planet is cold and icy, and no plants can live there. Let's see you get out of this mess without a wisecrack.

Edward Leo, Seattle, Wash.

(Simple—those weren't Earth-type plants, but mineral formations which resembled them—a sort of "metallic forest."—Ed.)

* * * * *

Dear Editor:

I have just finished reading ADVENTURE #395. The story of "The Rejected Supergirl" was great. On page 2, I thought the computer that Mr. Hanson was using looked familiar. I checked back in #393 and found a computer just like it, except that it was red. Is this the same computer?

Mariano Gonzalez, San Francisco, Calif.

(No—that one was whipped up by Mr. Mxyzptlk and ceased to exist when the Infernal Imp vanished into the 5th Dimension. However, both computers had the same designer—artist Win Mortimer.—Ed.)

* * * * *

Dear Editor:

In a recent issue of ADVENTURE, you show that Supergirl (and, I presume, other Kryptonians) will lose their powers under a red sun. But according to SUPERBOY #163, they should only lose their super-senses, flying and invulnerability, and still retain their super-muscles (which enable them to leap great distances), super-breath and super-speed, if the planet has lighter gravity. Explain this, please.

Davie Blackmon, Shorterville, Ala.

(You handed us a real toughie this time. Trouble is, we now realize we've been contradicting ourselves from time to time. We promise to work out a consistent explanation of the Super-Family's powers and stick to it!—Ed.)

BUT, BLACK CANARY! HOW DID YOU KNOW THAT THE TELEVISION CAMERA-MAN WAS PLANNING TO STEAL THE DIAMONDS?
BECAUSE HE FOCUSED HIS CAMERA ON THE ENTRANCE AND EXITS TO MRS. LANDALL'S DRAWING ROOM INSTEAD OF ON HER DIAMOND COLLECTION! I FIGURED HE WAS TIPPING OFF HIS ACCOMPLICES HOW TO BREAK IN AND ASSIST HIM IN THE ROBBERY!
LATER... AT THE FLORIST SHOP...
IF I ONLY KNEW HOW TO REACH THE BLACK CANARY, I'D SEND HER SOME FLOWERS!
OH, I'LL BET SHE'S JUST SURROUNDED BY FLOWERS!
The End.

Do you have art talent worth developing? Take our free test and see

If you have ever wondered whether you had art talent, here is your chance to find out. The founders of Famous Artists School have put together what many artists and educators consider to be the most revealing test of art ability ever devised. It is offered to you free.

Designed for people uncertain of their ability

The people who take this Art Talent Test are of all ages and occupations. Most of them have little or no previous art training. By professional standards, their drawings may be awkward and amateurish. But the ones who possess the gift of art talent reveal it in many ways. Through simple little exercises, they show the inborn sense of design, the feeling for composition, the ability to observe, and the lively imagination which are such important ingredients of art talent.

The reliability of this method of screening, as well as the effectiveness of the training, has been proven again and again by the impressive record of success of our students and graduates.

They passed the test and went on to become successful artists

When Anthony Fotia took the Art Talent Test, he was a mail clerk, "stuck" in a low-pay routine job. Today, he's an artist for a printing firm, doing exciting creative work. Kathleen Gironda went from a saleslgirl in a department store to a fashion illustrator in the same store. Virginia Bartter, a farmer's wife and mother of three, now sells just about everything she paints. These are just a few of the literally hundreds of "success stories" our students report to us.

So if you love to sketch or dabble in paints —and have often wondered if you "have what it takes" to become a well-paid commercial artist or sparetime professional painter—why not seize this opportunity to find out? All you need is a pencil and a half-hour of your time. With your special interest, it will be one of the most intriguing and enjoyable half-hours you ever spent.

What the Talent Test covers

First, you will be shown ten pairs of simple designs and asked to pick the one in each pair that has "a feeling of rightness" about it. Then you will see twenty pairs of pictures, and check which composition in each pair is more pleasing. You'll be asked to do original sketches to demonstrate your imagination and powers of observation. And in similar ways, your feeling for mood, form, movement, and so on will be tested.

When you complete the test and mail it back, it will be graded free by a member of the School's staff. If you receive a passing grade (and we must warn you that many don't), or can offer sufficient evidence of art talent, you will then be eligible to enroll. You may choose whichever of our courses is best suited to your goals.

Courses offer personal instruction

These courses were especially designed for talented people who can't leave their families or jobs for art training away from home. The 12 famous artists who started the School over 19 years ago contributed all their lifetime secrets of art technique to what they believe to be the finest art lessons ever created. They took time out from their own busy careers and made thousands of special drawings to demonstrate each point. Then they devised a method of constructive criticism that is as personal as tutoring. Your instructor, who is himself required to be a practicing professional artist, spends up to several hours on just one of your assignments. He actually draws or paints his suggestions for improvement, and then "talks" to you by letter, dictating a long, friendly message of specific advice and encouragement.

You will receive an interesting brochure about our School and its revolutionary methods along with your free Art Talent Test. If you have ever dreamed of success in art, and wondered if it were possible, why not mail the coupon at left for both the Talent Test and the brochure right now?
